

Personal Biography for Leon Brown

Leon Brown was born in Swainsboro, Georgia. He is the eleventh of twelve children born to Mr. and Mrs. William Harry Brown. He graduated from Swainsboro High School and enlisted in the U.S. Army, where he worked on light wheel vehicles. After serving his country he attended the Police Academy in Augusta Georgia, where he obtained his certification. He started his career in 1988 and his first job assignment was with the Swainsboro Police Department. He served three years, before he moved to Forest Park Georgia.

There he was hired by Forest Park Police where he obtained the rank of Sergeant and awarded the Medal of Valor for apprehending one of America's most wanted fugitives. Since then he has worked for several local agencies before landing a job at the Clayton County Police Department. There he was placed in the School Resource Officer Unit and worked numerous details including successful under cover prostitution stings.

He formed Teens Initiating Change with his partner, which gives kids a voice in their community.

He transferred to the Clayton County Sheriff Department where he continued his work with kids. He is a School Resource Officer at Elite Scholars Academy where he hopes to bridge the gap between students, administration and faculty. He is pursuing his degree in Criminal Justice taking online courses with Penn Foster College. He has filmed a video with the Clayton County Solicitor Office in reference to Domestic Violence which is schedule to be released to all Clayton Schools late September. When he is not working he enjoys spending time with his family.